

In the name of freedom of speech and abolishing censorship to all forms of media, I am writing this message of protest to changing the regulation 17-108. In voicing my objections to the proposed deregulation, I join others who are concerned with who or what organization is deeming what is appropriate or not on the internet and whether it can be aired. It's a sad day when people can be punished for doing or saying what they would like in certain forums, and the internet is an open environment for all kinds of expression and should not be reigned in as 17-1078 proposes. Net Neutrality is as important and necessary as the worldwide web itself!

Please, in all that is fair and free in America and always has been, do not allow regulation 17-108 to bring censorship the the internet.

Sincerely,

David Swan
